

Everyday I collect one object that connects me to a moment in time. I don't know what I might find, or why I collect it in that moment - other than I allow myself to form a momentary emotional connection - if I get a 'spark' I pick it up and put it in my pocket - this is one of my objects.

Found Sunday 28th January 4pm at Point Clear Bay

It made me question how it was made....

And what it reminded me of....

Where it was made and its purpose....

How some parts where smooth and other rough.....

Traces of the making process.....

Does this object spark an emotional response for you?

Within a few words or a short sentence answer the following questions - try to be open and spontaneous in your response!

- What does this object spark for you?
- How would you imagine it feels?
- How would you describe the function of this object?
- What could it be other than its actual function?
- Close you eyes - What do you see feel or imagine?
